PERSISTENT RAINS CAUSE FEARS OF MINOR FLOODS ALONG ALLEGHENY RIVER

Persistent rains most of Tuesday and this morning have raised a minor flood possibility along Allegheny River. Isolated flooding has already occurred as tributaries overflow their banks.

However, predicted cold weather Thursday was expected to nip the incipient torrents far short of a danger point.

Allegheny River had risen this morning from a low of five feet one inch at 7 a. m. to approximately six feet six inches at noon. But flood stage is around 14 feet and by noon only 40 inches of rain had fallen during the January deluge, according to Water Watcher "Uncle Jim" Reier.

Argentina Is Still in Grip of Strikers

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Bomb explosions jarred Buenos Aires today as Argentina attempted to recover from a two-day general strike against President Arturo Frondizi's belt-tightening program.

The blasts were set off as leaders of the 62 Peronista unions defiantly announced after a secret meeting that they had decided to continue the walkout indefinitely. Unless the government cracks this strike, it will keep such industries as textiles and metals paralyzed.

Two other big labor groups voted Tuesday night to call off the strike which began snowballing last weekend. Many strikers have gone back to work.

Several of the bombs were aimed at railway property and may have been set off by disgruntled Peronistas or Communists to interrupt the back-to-work movement.

Trucks were damaged in the capital's suburbs at Sarmiento, Roca and San Martin, and services were halted while repairs were made.

Security forces were directed to take control of all public utilities under what the Defense Ministry called its internal communication plan. Argentina remained generally calm. Only a few isolated incidents were reported.

Soldiers Tuesday night occupied the central telephone exchange of La Plata, capital of Buenos Aires province. Troops also took over installations there of the huge Argentine Electric Co., which is (Turn to Page Ten)

Alaskans Offer Prayer for Their Ailing Governor

SEATTLE (AP)—Alaskans offered a prayer today for their first elected governor, fighting a desperate battle for survival after an emergency operation for a serious intestinal ailment.

William A. Egan, 44, remained in critical condition although Dr. Leland Spalding, resident surgeon at Virginia Mason Hospital, said the governor, a Democrat, was resting comfortably. Mrs. Egan and the couple's son, Dennis, 11, were at the bedside.

The former storekeeper from Valdez underwent emergency surgery Tuesday morning. He was flown here from Juneau, Alaska's capital, only a few hours earlier. Dr. Joe W. Baker, who headed the team of surgeons, said afterwards Egan had a "desperate chance to get well." His chances, Dr. Baker added, were "little less" (Turn to Page Ten)

Tale About Bullion Turns Out To Be Just Plain Bull

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—D. E. Jones' 86 bars of gold were just plain bull—not bullion—the U. S. Secret Service said today.

Jones, 38-year-old father of eight children, told Secret Service officials Tuesday "there wasn't any gold." He had just taken a lie detector test.

Forrest V. Sorrells, agent in charge of the Dallas office of Secret Service, said Jones made the admission. Earlier, the Corsican, Tex., filling station attendant said he found the multimillion-dollar cache in eastern Texas while picking berries.

But the idea of the tale started last summer, he said, while the John Franson, Allegheny Forest Supervisor, had reported an average snow depth of 11½ inches earlier this month and unfrozen ground was expected to be able to absorb much of the runoff created by warm rain. Tuesday runoff loosened the river ice and no jamming is anticipated as large chunks move easily downstream.

Conewago Creek is already running very muddy, meaning isolated flooding along lowlands upstream and into New York State. Ice is jammed above the dam by North Warren and Oakview Park cottages may be in for a foundation-wash. Jackson Run ice reported backed up to homes on Victor Avenue.

Downstream, danger is building in the Franklin area. French Creek has reportedly overflowed its banks and sent three feet of water swirling around the tanks of Franklin Creek Refinery. The units have been shut down and rescue crews are "at ready" as ice continues to jam in the river. Water stage at Franklin was 11.4 feet early this morning, up half a foot overnight. French Creek borders Route 322.

Other weather irregularities are reported in Warren County. The steady rains, while washing away much of the snow blanket, also iced various sections and 19 children on Cole Hill were not in school today because school bus driver Freeman Ruhlman termed the roads too slippery for safety.

At noon, fog was reported so intense in the stretch between Mineral Well and Clarendon that traffic with full headlights turned on could move only at a snail's pace. Highways in many sections were reported covered with water overflowing from melted hillside snow. Davy Hill was mentioned as being particularly bad. Dutchman Run has overflowed.

Temperature rose to 47 degrees in Warren Tuesday and an overnight low of 35 degrees was recorded. Mercury at noon today stood at 44 degrees in the borough but cold weather Thursday and much colder weather Friday was predicted as the western storm moves eastward. (Turn to Page Ten)

Workmen Dismantling The Inaugural Stand

HARRISBURG (AP)—Workmen today began dismantling the $11,000 inaugural stand that wasn't used Tuesday for Gov. Lawrence's inauguration. Miserable weather conditions sent the inauguration ceremony indoors to the State Farm Show Building.

The outdoor facility at the foot of the main capitol building steps included a glass-enclosed platform where the governor and about 40 other official inauguration participants were to have been housed for the oath-taking and review of the parade which was cancelled.

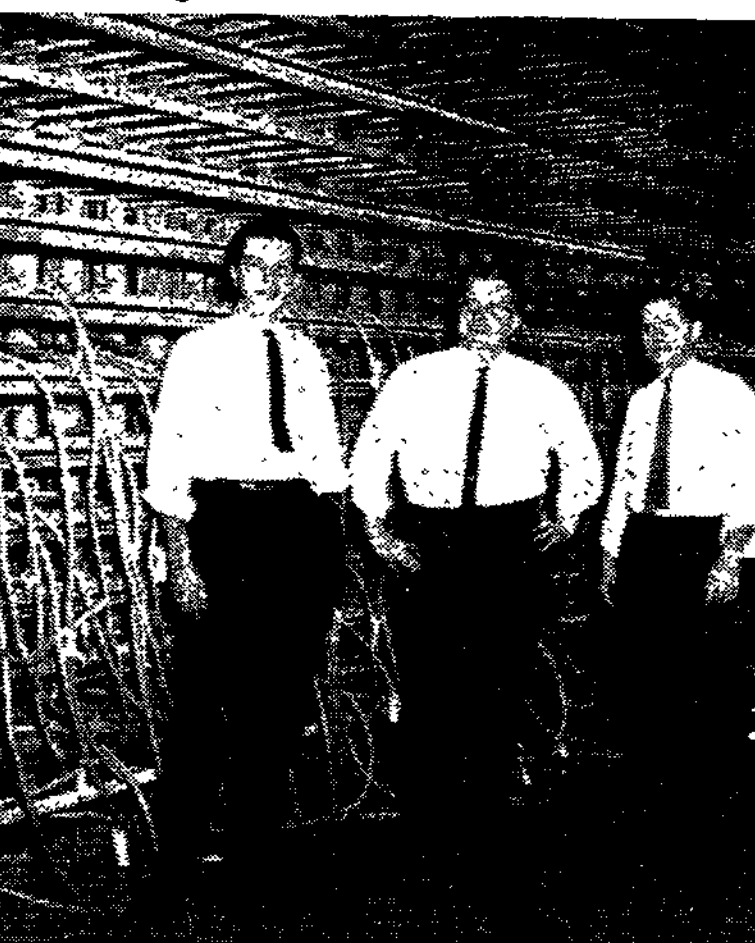

The former storekeeper from Valdez underwent emergency surgery Tuesday morning. He was flown here from Juneau, Alaska's capital, only a few hours earlier. Dr. Joe W. Baker, who headed the team of surgeons, said afterwards Egan had a "desperate chance to get well." His chances, Dr. Baker added, were "little less" (Turn to Page Ten) boys were sitting around the filling station talking about buried gold. Jones' curiosity was aroused so he went to a banker to find out what to do if he found the gold. The banker sent him to a lawyer. With seven cents in his pocket, Jones went to an attorney and signed a contract.

People started bothering Jones for a cut in his "discovery," he said, so Jones moved to Corsicana and the filling station job.

Last week, Jones started telling the story again. The Secret Service stepped in, and Tuesday Jones pointed to a gold-filled tooth. "More gold here than I found," he said.

Gov. Lawrence Calls First Meeting of His New Cabinet

By BOB HOLTON

HARRISBURG, (AP)—Gov. Lawrence, meeting with his cabinet for the first time since taking office, gave strict instructions today for austerity in spending even to the level of department purchases of equipment.

Lawrence told his 18-member cabinet that "this is going to be an action administration."

In a brief meeting with the cabinet less than 24 hours after he was inaugurated, Lawrence several times stressed the need for a solution to the state's money problems.

He called for a better state operation than ever offered before and cautioned that "we also must be always alert to make certain that not a trace of dishonesty in the conduct of the public's affairs."

On the advice of Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, Lawrence instructed his cabinet members to be cooperative with members of the Legislature. He reminded them of the slim margin of Democratic control in only the House.

Only one chosen member of Lawrence's cabinet was absent from today's meeting—Frank G. McCartney, whose nomination as (Turn to Page Ten)

Leader Resumes Role of Private Citizen at York

YORK, Pa. (AP)—George M. Leader resumed the role of a private citizen today after four years as the chief executive of Pennsylvania.

Today the transition was complete. The former governor rested at his farm home here after unobtrusively shedding the mantle of office and putting in an appearance at the Executive Mansion as a visitor at a dinner given by Gov. Lawrence Tuesday night.

Leader was one of four former chief executives at the dinner. Other ex-governors at the dinner were Edward Martin, George H. Earle and James H. Duff.

The Leaders have remodeled an old farmhouse near Dover, about a quarter of a mile from the home in which they lived before he was elected governor a little more than four years ago.

Moving vans already have taken the family's personal belongings from the Executive Mansion in Harrisburg and the summer home at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

The belongings have been delivered to the farm house and the Leader's two older children have left the Harrisburg Academy and enrolled in a private school at York.

Steelmaking Rates Showing Little Change

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Iron Age magazine said today Pittsburgh steelmaking rates will show little change this week.

The weekly metalworking publication said district mills are due to operate at 71.5 per cent of capacity, 5 of a point down from last week.

Upper Ohio River district mills are scheduled to operate at 83 per cent, down 3.5 points from last week. Youngstown mills are due to increase one point from last week, operating at 60 per cent.

More Cubans Cut Down by Rebel Squads

By STANFORD BRADSHAW
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The distant chatter of firing squad guns was the curtain raiser for a massive Havana rally today in support of the revolutionary government's summary executions.

Rebel bullets cut down a dozen men of ousted President Fulgencio Batista's defeated armed forces in Pinar del Rio, Cuba's westernmost province. All had been convicted of murder and other war crimes in a three-hour trial.

These, plus 19 previously unreported executions—11 at Cardenas in Matanzas province and 8 at Jiguani in Oriente province—boosted the nationwide total to 247.

Three others were reported under death sentences in Pinar del Rio and 38 in Oriente province of east Cuba.

Havana workers took the day off to participate in the rally.

Fidel Castro called for a half million persons to throng the park in front of the Presidential Palace this afternoon.

The revolutionary leader said this would be Cuba's answer to foreign criticism of swift retribution for those convicted by military courts of crimes against the people during Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

The first of a series of public trials in Havana was announced to begin Thursday in the city's 15,000-seat Sports Palace.

Castro said the rally in Havana would support justice and "demand that the United States return the war criminals." No formal requests for extradition of Batista followers who fled to the United States have been reported so far in Washington.

To assure a big turnout, labor chief David Salvador declared a (Turn to Page Ten)

Eleven Bail Out From a Flaming Navy Patrol Plane

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—A flaming engine on a Navy patrol bomber forced 11 men to bail out in a snowstorm Tuesday. All landed safely.

The plane crashed and burned in a pasture near Ottawa, Kan. The two-engine Neptune, based at Glenview (Ill.) Naval Air Station, was on a training mission to San Diego, Calif., when the left engine caught fire 50 miles northeast of Kansas City.

The Olathe Naval Air Station, southwest of Kansas City, started to guide the plane to a landing by radar, but the fire was too hot.

A veteran of three previous emergency jumps, Lt. Cmdr. E. J. Funk of San Lorenzo, Calif., was the pilot.

The other 10 men dived into the snowstorm from a rear hatch. Funk was cut off by the explosions amidship so he went out through the nose wheel hatch.

The 11 men were strung out over 10 miles when they landed.

No Sign of Settling Plate Glass Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bargaining dragged on today with still no sign of settling the 108-day old Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. strike.

Representatives of the company and the United Glass & Ceramic Workers traded proposals at a meeting Tuesday. Another meeting was called today in the office of Federal Mediator Robert Donahoe.

A new tack was taken Tuesday. "For the first time," Donahoe said, "we've put aside the national issues—without agreement—in hopes we can clear the decks of these other matters."

He meant the negotiators were dealing with local issues in each of the seven company plants, and postponing discussion of over-all issues.

But he would not go into detail. Some 13,000 PPG employees have been idled by the strike. Seniority and incentive pay reportedly are the main points of dispute. Wages are not involved.

Soviet Deputy And Party are Forced Down

ARGENTIA, Nid. (AP)—Anastias I. Mikoyan spent an unexpected night at the U. S. Naval Air Base in Newfoundland after the Scandinavian airliner carrying the Soviet deputy premier homeward was forced down with two engines out.

Mikoyan—apparently unshaken by the mishap which set nerves jangling in more than one world capital—was to board another plane today to resume his flight to Copenhagen. He ended his 16-day visit to the United States Tuesday and started home with a party of five, including his son Sergio.

A Scandinavian Airline spokesman in New York expressed doubt sabotage lay behind the mishap while the four-engine DC7 was high over the Atlantic. There were 35 passengers and 14 crew members aboard.

The spokesman said the plane had been under close guard after it arrived at Idlewild and that New York police had inspected it thoroughly.

The airline ordered a plane from Copenhagen to Newfoundland to pick up the stranded passengers.

The pilot, Capt. Carl Schulzberg, reported that he detected a defective supercharger on No. 4 engine while 108 miles from Gander, Nfld.

"While trying to adjust this mechanical condition, a fire broke out in engine No. 1 which lasted five or six seconds," he said.

Argentina was the nearest alternate airport. The plane captain broadcast notice of an emergency and said he would land there.

The plane came down at the (Turn to Page Ten)

Proposal Would Establish New Cabinet Officer

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate committee study today was given a proposal that a $20,000-a-year post of Cabinet rank be established for supervision of an atomic development regulation in Pennsylvania.

Three Democratic senators submitted a proposal Tuesday asking for the establishment of an office of coordinator of atomic development activities.

A similar proposal was voted down in the Senate during the 1957 Legislature.

The sponsors said the agency would stimulate Pennsylvania participation in a federal plan "to encourage the widespread participation in the development and utilization of atomic energy for peaceful purposes."

The coordinator would confer with various state agencies in coordinating atomic energy development and regulating its use.

The bill (S51) was introduced by Sens. Lane (Washington), Camille (Phila.) and Donahoe (Phila.).

PURPORT OF MESSAGE TO MIKOYAN IS OUTLINED IN CONFERENCE WITH PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today Russia must come to understand the United States simply won't be pushed around in working for world peace.

Eisenhower told a news conference that was the purport of his message to Anastas I. Mikoyan, the Soviet deputy premier, as he left for home after his U. S. visit.

On a domestic political matter, Eisenhower said he would favor repeal of the present constitutional ban on a third term for presidents.

Eisenhower has said repeatedly that he would not be interested—primarily because of his age—in a third term. There was no indication in what he said today that he has changed his mind about that.

The subject came up when a newsman recalled that Eisenhower once said he thought it "not wholly wise" for the third term ban to have been written into the Constitution.

In reply, the President said he still thinks it was not a particularly wise decision. He added that if the American people want to make any man their president, then it should be up to them and he sees no objection to more than two terms.

Then he went on to say he would rather see the constitutional amendment repealed than kept.

This was Eisenhower's first regular news conference since Dec. 10 and only the second since Nov. 5, although he did answer reporters' questions at a National Press Club luncheon a week ago.

The visit by Mikoyan was much on the minds of the newsmen, and brought early questions.

Eisenhower said the Kremlin leader offered no new proposals for relief of world tensions at their meeting in the White House last Saturday.

Referring then to the farewell message he sent Mikoyan Tuesday, Eisenhower said the deputy premier must be sure that America wants peace.

This country is willing to conciliate and negotiate, Eisenhower went on, but the Soviets must understand that the United States simply won't be pushed around.

The news conference touched on these other main topics:

CIVIL RIGHTS—As for the bill of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) to create a federal conciliation service to handle civil rights disputes, Eisenhower said he can't see that such a government unit would be fruitful. But he added he is keeping an open mind on the matter.

Eisenhower called again for extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, now scheduled to go out of business in September. Johnson's bill provides for such an extension.

INTEGRATION—The federal government is working on and studying the question of what to do about children of U. S. military personnel who are being barred from public schools at Norfolk, Va., and some other places because of controversy over court-ordered mixing of the races in the classrooms.

Eisenhower was asked whether he has any plans to assure those children a public school education. The questioner said Virginia's massive resistance laws have been declared invalid by the courts, but that Gov. J. Lindsay Almond has nevertheless promised to continue the fight for segregation.

Sentiment Grows for Indoor Inaugurations in the Future

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—Legislative leaders and newly installed Gov. Lawrence felt today that future inauguration ceremonies should be held indoors.

Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill) said he would introduce legislation next week to make it mandatory to hold the ceremony at the State Farm Show Arena.

The arena, on the edge of Harrisburg three miles from the State Capitol, was the site of Lawrence's inauguration Tuesday. Snow and rain forced the change from the traditional outdoor pageant on the steps of the Capitol.

John S. Rice, Commonwealth secretary and Inauguration Committee chairman, said he spoke for Lawrence in favoring the Farm Show Arena which can seat more than 7,000 in indoor comfort. "The ceremony Tuesday proved the efficacy of the Farm Show Arena facilities," he said. "Traditional outdoor ceremonies may be all right for tradition's sake but rarely do you get a day that is not cold and uncomfortable."

Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president pro tempore and powerful GOP legislative leader, expressed complete support of the type of measure planned by Wagner.

"It should be a one-line bill," said Taylor. "All inauguration ceremonies shall be held in the State Farm Show Arena."

In the House, Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, said he would back such a bill.

Corry Man Admits He Shot Himself With His Own Gun

Skeptical police officers finally unraveled Richard Fairchild of Corry Tuesday afternoon.

The Starbuck shooting victim, once out of the hospital, admitted in less than an hour that he had shot himself last Tuesday evening in a fit of despondency.

Sheriff Larry Linder and Trooper Cpl. Joseph Mastrian had cross examined the 22 year old just a short time when he "broke" at the state police substation. Then the two lawmen, accompanied by Conewango Township Officer Clayton Rhoades, went to the three-lane highway in Starbuck where they recovered Fairchild's 22 Winchester rifle just west of the Penelac underpass, off the south side of the road near the plant.

Later in the afternoon, Fairchild pleaded guilty to driving during a period of license suspension before Peace Justice Fred Berry. His parents posted $300 bond and took him home. Authorities said that further charges pending against the man will have to be discussed with District Attorney Samuel F. Bonavita. However, it is pointed out that there is no law specifically against a person wounding himself.

Re-enacting the deed, Fairchild showed officers how he stood beside his car, held the rifle against his left shoulder with his left hand and pulled the trigger with his right. Afterwards, the "victim" drove to FWCA residence in Warren for sympathy from girl friend Elice Hoffman, 18, formerly of Corry but an employee at New Process Company for some months.

Fairchild collapsed in the YWCA lobby after first blurted "There's been an accident. Call an ambulance."

Once safely in the hospital, the distraught man made up his way to Warren he had seen two comparatively young women, (in their 20s, he said) changing a tire. Fairchild said he stopped to help and had just finished placing tools back in their trunk when one of the women confronted him at point-blank range with a rifle. "Here's your reward," he told officers she said as a shot hit him in the shoulder.

Police stated they went into the investigation with an open mind but were skeptical of the strange tale from the beginning. Many others found his improvised story difficult to believe.

Officers said the boy was ridden by debts and had apparently been having difficulties of an amatory nature. He had also betrayed his parents by telling them he was attending Gannon College in Erie while in actuality he went to that city each day to work.

Officers, once the young man could be questioned at length, had little trouble disproving his story. A check with those traveling through Starbuck each day between 6 and 7 p. m. revealed that none had seen anyone changing a tire in the clear early night air.

Also, authorities could not find any trace of marks along the berm where a tire might have been changed earlier that evening. Investigation revealed further that Fairchild owned a 22 rifle (he told officers he had sold it). The path of the bullet (straight through) was another indication that the wound was in all probability self-inflicted.

Fairchild told officers at the conclusion of the episode that he was indeed sorry "for all the trouble he had caused to everyone." Police agreed, and muttered about the gun being thrown in such deep snow and their difficulty in finding it.

The Corry man will appear in Quarter Sessions court to face the driving during suspension charge.

A nerve injury, which partially paralyzed fingers in his left hand, is reported much improved.

Settlement Made in New Castle Damage Suit

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — A political campaign publicist has agreed to a $1,250 out-of-court settlement for services during a 1957 campaign.

George N. Pennington accepted the settlement Tuesday in his $2,500 damage suit against Roger W. Rowland, executive vice president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn., and a Lawrence County industrialist.

Pennington claimed Rowland hired him to handle the 1957 Republican campaign for Perry L. Reeher, a candidate for Lawrence County district attorney, but later refused to pay him the $2,500.

Details of how the out-of-court agreement was reached were not disclosed. Pennington said he will turn the money over to charity.

Mrs. Edward Zimmerman presided at the business session, which was followed by a social time and games. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Earl Sechrist February 11.

Mrs. Paul Wood entertained Friendship Club, with eight members enjoying a one o'clock dinner which included a birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Harry Pearson, to honor Mrs. Charles Pearson. Mrs. Richard Enos was elected president; Mrs. Howard Ramsdell, vice president; Mrs. Claude Perrigo, secretary; Mrs. Paul Wood, treasurer. Next meeting will be January 30.

Mrs. Floyd Burkholder has been spending a few days in Cleveland with her daughter and family.

Mrs. Dora Johnson, College street, left Monday for Genesee, N. Y., where her nephew, Wayne Olson, is in critical condition following an auto accident. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Olson, formerly of Youngsville and Warren, he was with four other young people at the time of the happening, when one boy was killed and three badly injured. Young Olson has not regained consciousness and is considered in critical condition.

Several from town were in Warren to attend the radiological class held at the court house, this instruction to continue for five weeks, meeting two hours each evening. Mr. Morris, local director, emphasizes importance of this instruction and urges both men and women to attend each Thursday evening at 7:30.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Mariner has returned home after spending a week caring for her aunt, Mrs. Jessie Barlow, in Jamestown.

Father Hurley, of St. Luke's Catholic church, left Sunday afternoon for a week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Higgins left Sunday for two weeks in Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Delores Brown and small son have left by plane for a three-week stay with her aunt, Mrs. Margie Finlan, in Orlando, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Yngve Harner returned Monday from Milwaukee, where they attended the International Live Mink Show. Besides a very large attendance from this country, fur farmers were present from Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Japan.

TWO FIRE CALLS

A cigarette was listed as the possible cause of a fire in the YWCA kitchen at 10:30 p. m. Tuesday. Firemen extinguished the blaze before it had gained much headway in the shelving. No damage estimate was given.

At 8:21 a. m. today equipment was called to Sylvania's Second avenue plant. A sprinkler head gave way which had been tested the day before. There was no fire. Mr. and Mrs. William Prouk, who operate a catering service in the YWCA activities building, are very grateful to the telephone operator who was very courteous and helpful in locating Mr. Prouk to assist in the fire emergency.

March of Dimes Coin Collectors

March of Dimes coin collectors built to reflect the expanded goals of the National Foundation were distributed last week throughout Warren, County, Mrs. Helena Iseman, campaign director, said today.

The coin collectors were spotted mainly in stores, markets, cafes and elsewhere in the county by volunteers.

Mrs. Doris Weiler of the Warren Zonta Club is in charge of the cards which are being distributed by YMCA boys. Members of the Alpha Hi-Y and Leaders' Corps who are working on the project are Dick Terry, Chris Creal, Denny Mong, Bill Elmurst, Barry Wright, Ray Barrett, Dave Hummerich, Jim Casler, Allen Carter, and Richard Burke.

"The added responsibilities of the National Foundation mean that the 1959 March of Dimes must raise much more money," the campaign director added.

"In the area of arthritis and rheumatism alone, at least 11 million are crippled in the United States, and of these 30,000 are infants and children. In the case of birth defects, 250,000 infants are born each year with congenital malformations (not birth injuries). Added to these problems, our chapters still have 50,000 polio patients on aid rolls."

"All of this makes it clear why it will take larger March of Dimes contributions this January if the organization that put polio on the run is to move on 'Toward Greater Victories.'"

Youngsville Boro Council Meeting

YOUNGVILLE — At the Borough Council meeting, held Monday evening in the fire hall, a committee with Orval Borton as chairman was appointed to report on general water problems for the February 2 meeting.

At the open meeting afterwards, Dr. Peters and Dr. Rogan, of Warren, expressed opinions favoring fluoridation. Dr. Rogan's demonstration of the fluoride to be added showed it to be clear, odorless and tasteless.

Mrs. Dora Johnson, College street, left Monday for Genesee, N. Y., where her nephew, Wayne Olson, is in critical condition following an auto accident. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Olson, formerly of Youngsville and Warren, he was with four other young people at the time of the happening, when one boy was killed and three badly injured. JAYCEE WEEK

One of the highlights of the annual observance of Jaycee Week in Warren, as elsewhere, is the Bosses' Night banquet, scheduled for the Marconi Outing Club at 6:30 Thursday evening.

Since the principal speaker for the affair this year will be the famous Rear Admiral Denys W. Knoll, discussing the present and future role of the military forces of the United States, considerable interest is attached to the event.

Also on the program for the evening will be the presentation of the Distinguished Service Award to Warren's outstanding young man of 1958, whose identity is top secret until his name is announced and he is called to the speaker's table during the dinner.

This event emphasizes again that the Jaycees are dedicated to leadership through community service.

MARCH OF DIMES REMINDER

The National Foundation is continuing its fight against polio, Reason? Aside from additional research needed to improve treatment techniques and eliminate the polio virus through vaccination, there are 150,000 men, women and children who have had paralytic polio and still may need direct aid. Give generously to the 1959 March of Dimes.

Contributors to past March of Dimes campaigns made the historic Salk vaccine a reality. Nevertheless, such remains to be discovered about polio. For example, can the vaccine be made even more effective than 90 per cent? Can it be combined with other infant vaccines into a single series of shots? Can a vaccine be developed to be taken by mouth? These and other questions relating to polio demand immediate answers. Support the 1959 March of Dimes Toward Greater Victories.

POLITICAL POT SIZZLES

Announcement elsewhere in this issue that Burgess William E. Rice, lifelong resident of the community, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Treasurer, should start the political pot sizzling, after months of speculation among leaders of both parties, as well as voters generally.

Names of many hopefuls have been mentioned, in connection with discussions concerning probable candidates for Treasurer as well as Prothonotary, Register and Recorder, County Commissioners and other minor county offices, along with Councilmen in each ward in the borough.

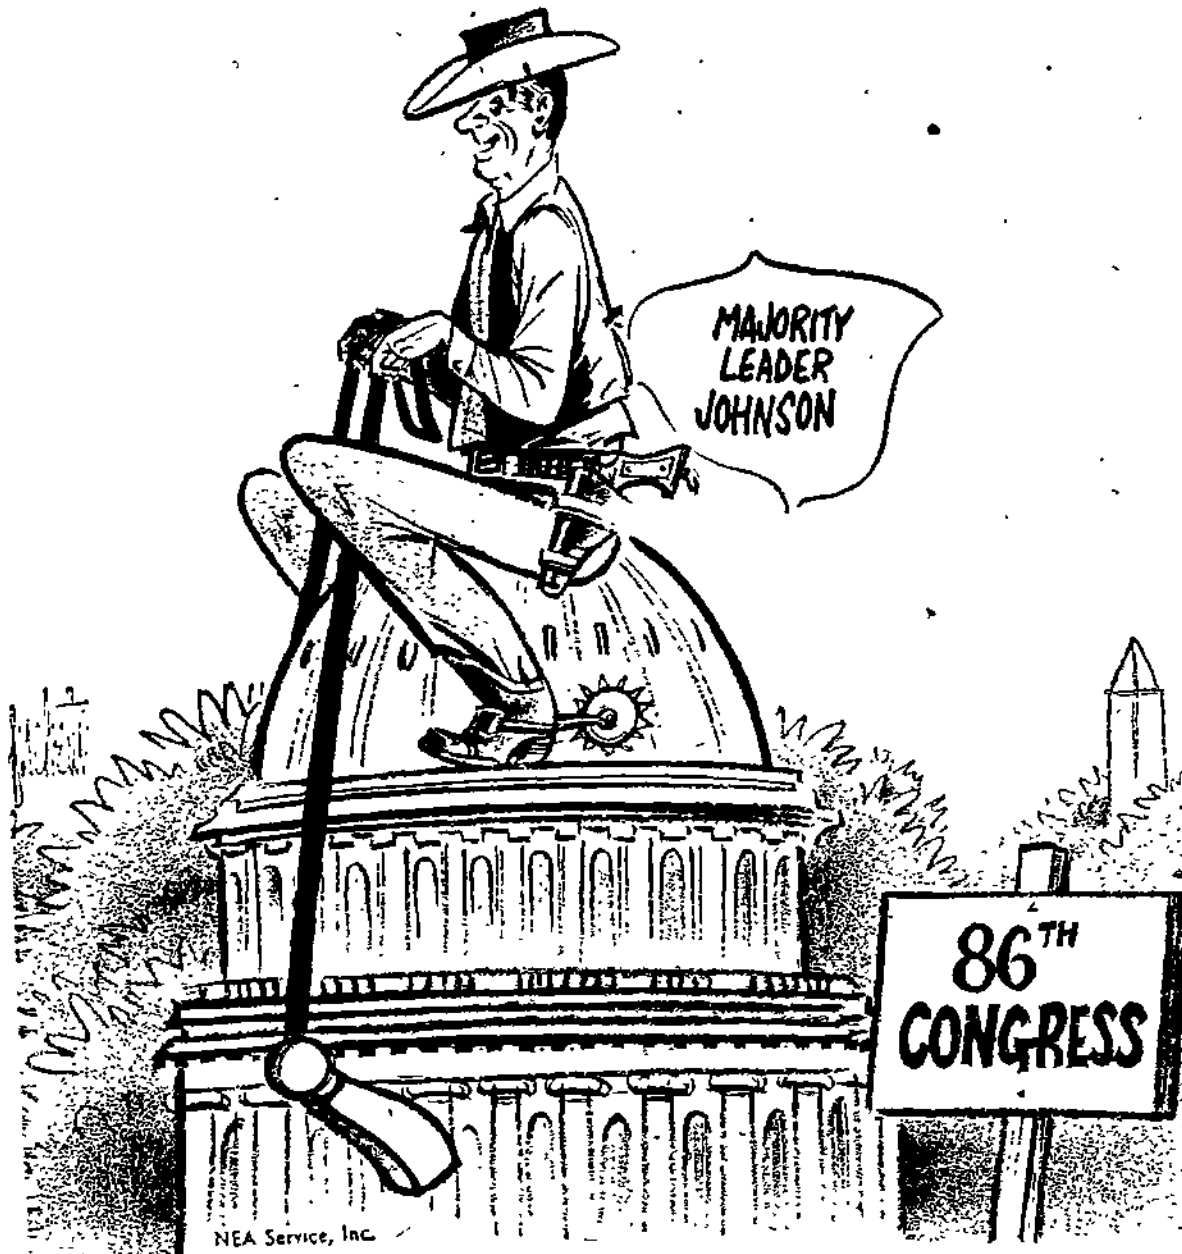

It is anticipated there will be a large field of candidates throwing their hats in the rings of both parties, assuring an exciting Primary election—including a referendum on the question as to whether or not Warren will have fluoridation.

WORLD TODAY

By James Marlow
Associated Press News Analyst

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the best insights into the mind and tactics of Sen. Lyndon Johnson, leader of the Senate Democrats, is in the kind of civil rights bill he offered Tuesday.
The Johnson bill is strictly a compromise: too mild for the liberals, too strong for the Southern Democrats. But if any civil rights bill can pass this year, it's probably this one, or one like it, just because it is middle-of-the-road.
Because it's that kind, it fits completely a description of Johnson given last week by one of his closest associates: "Here in Washington issues are all around us. But Johnson doesn't try to create issues; he tries to settle them."
Johnson uses compromise to do two things mainly: to inch forward and to avoid long fights that create bitterness and delay the Senate's work.
One of his aides said, "Sometimes he'll talk to as many as 50 people, in Congress, in government, outside government to get the best advice he can before he makes up his mind. He's a brain-picker."
"Sometimes he finds, through these consultations in and out of Congress, that a slight change in the wording of a bill means the difference between enough votes to get it through and determined opposition."
All this, of course, is in addition to the many favors he does for fellow-senators, who are not ungrateful when he badly needs them.
Having made up his mind, he turns to strategy: picking the time and the situation for making his move. He gave a demonstration of that Tuesday.
Both the Eisenhower administration and the Senate liberals are expected to offer civil rights legislation fairly soon. Some bills already are in. Before others were offered, Johnson unexpectedly produced his proposal.
This got him the maximum attention for his bill. It became a yardstick for judging other proposals made later. By being first with a compromise bill, he took the steam out of any more far-reaching bills.
Johnson did the same kind of thing on the opening day of this new Congress. Liberals had said they'd put up a tough fight to change a Senate rule to make it easier to smash a filibuster.
On opening day, before they had a chance to open their mouths, Johnson offered a plan to make it just a very little bit easier to smash a filibuster. The liberals didn't like it and neither did the Southerners, but for opposite reasons.
But because it meant only a mild change, the Southerners did not filibuster and the change went through. What had seemed on opening day as a long fight was cleared up in less than one week.
In 1957 Johnson did what many people had considered impossible: he steered through the Senate the first real civil rights bill to pass in this century. It was truly a compromise bill, too mild for the liberals, too strong for the Southerners yet not strong enough to cause a Southern filibuster.

"Why, She's Gentle as a Kitten"

Here and There

Big business is good business, and it is getting bigger all the time, the Pennsylvania Railroad reported today. Big business in this instance means unusually high or wide freight shipments, which require special handling because their dimensions exceed the normal clearance limits along the tracks. Such items as grinders, diesel engines, airplane parts, pleasure boats, auto frames, steam shovels, farm machinery, long telephone poles, generators, turbines transformers and the like, regularly receive special handling because they are, railroad parlance, "high and wide." Ten years ago the Pennsy was handling 1,000 oversized loads a month. Today the volume is double that, and growing every month. And the big loads themselves are getting bigger and heavier, the railroad says. Industry is not only building bigger units, but also is shipping them more completely assembled to avoid field fabrication costs at destination. To better serve this growing traffic, the Pennsy recently inaugurated a daily train, in each direction, over main line tracks which avoids the clearance problems created by tunnels and deep cuts between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh. Until a short time ago the trip, via Erie, often took four days. The new trains, which go direct and give overnight service, have been designated HW-2 and HW-3. The HW designation obviously is for "high-wide." These are the first through daily oversized trains in the nation. Sending the new trains on the main line was made possible by careful routing over tracks with the best clearances. "Like a broken field half-back dodging interference on the gridiron, the trains keep changing from one track to another to pick up the best clearances, which often differ on tracks running side by side," says A. L. Kessler, Pennsy supervisor of clearances. "By weaving a path in this manner, a special route was mapped across Pennsylvania for shipments too big for regular freight trains running on their usual tracks." Regular freight trains can accommodate loads no higher than 16 feet, 3 inches, and at the top the loads must be no wider than two feet, because of tunnel clearances. Mr. Kessler pointed out. The HW trains can carry shipments up to 17 feet, 2 inches high, and as much as 9 feet, 3 inches wide at the top. Any loads higher and wider must still go the alternate route, but these amount to less than one-third of the total. The Pennsylvania also has almost 40 per cent of the Nation's supply of special flat cars capable of handling loads of more than 75 tons—such cars as the 121-foot depressed center FD-2, with a capacity of 250 tons, and the 50-foot F-38, which can carry 300 tons.

An electronic device that can measure the size of a potential steak or chop in a live animal may eventually prove a real asset in livestock marketing and breeding. The device, now being tested by U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists, uses high frequency sound waves to determine the depth of back fat and depth and width of loin eye in cattle and hogs. County Agent, Bernard Wingert, explains that the device sends sound waves through annual tissues. The time needed for these waves to pass through and bounce back from the interfaces or boundaries between fat, lean, and bone varies with depth. These time differences are used to measure the depths of the various interfaces. In preliminary tests, comparisons of animals measured by ultrasonics before slaughter with actual measurements of the dressed carcasses showed a high degree of accuracy for the experimental apparatus. If continued tests prove the instrument's accuracy, it might be helpful in selecting and grading hogs and beef cattle before fattening or slaughter. It also might be used by feeders to separate groups of animals into grades to insure proper finish for slaughter, and thus improve the uniformity of marketed livestock. Livestock breeders might use it to select meat-type breeding stock. This would reduce the time needed to produce superior lines. The device also could result in a substantial saving of time needed to measure, probe, and judge individual animals by present day methods.

A Few Impressions Which Mikoyan Can Take Home

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—More important than what Russia's visiting First Deputy Chairman Anastas I. Mikoyan brought to America in the way of propaganda and phony peace offers will be what he takes back to Moscow with him in the way of new ideas and impressions.
The real reasons for Mikoyan's visit have been well obscured by typical Communist double-dealing.
Russians never conduct their diplomacy by direct dealing. Mikoyan did not come as an ambassador to negotiate. He did not even talk trade, though that is his specialty.
Right up to the end of the visit, the official reaction in Washington has been puzzlement as to why he came. The general impression is that it was to show that Soviet Russia is sweetly reasonable and wants peace.
No such uncertainty surrounds the replies which Mikoyan received to these overtures.

IN THE FIRST PLACE, Mikoyan can take back to Moscow and lay before his Kremlin colleagues one flat statement from President Eisenhower on Russia's announced intention to abandon its responsibilities respecting Berlin.
"As a consequence of these actions, we can have no confidence in any treaty which the Communists are a party—except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-censorship mechanisms." This is from the President's State of the Union message. It lays U.S. policy right on the line.
It says that Chairman Khrushchev's warm-over formula for a German peace treaty is old hash. Washington is not buying.

INSTEAD OF THAT, Mikoyan has been told that the United States is sticking by its former position in favor of reunification of Germany through free elections.
As Secretary of State Dulles points it up, the United States does not believe in the Russian plan to isolate and neutralize Germany. That was tried after World War I and it didn't work. The policy now is to make Germany a partner in preserving peace.
This was the position the United States took in the 1955 Geneva Big Four conference. It is the position that was confirmed last December by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council in Paris.

If Mikoyan thought he would learn that the United States would be willing to make a separate deal with the Soviet Union, he should know better now.
MIKOYAN WAS LAST HERE in 1936, during the great depression. Communist economists and propagandists have tried to make much of the 1938 recession as a sign of capitalism's downfall.
But the Russian visitor has now seen for himself that this country has also grown considerable in 23 years.
The contacts that Mikoyan made in the United States outside of Washington were principally with Americans who in the past have advocated making deals with the Russians.
From the labor leaders Mikoyan met in Washington, he got only a bare-knuckle sluff of words. They expressed contempt for Soviet hypocrisy towards free trade unions. That should also have been an eye-opener for the visitor.
Nobody in Washington or elsewhere has knuckled under to the touring commissar, humbly begging to know under what terms he would offer the world peace.

Hal Boyle Comment

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"Help wanted—American agriculture."

America may be desperately short of missile engineers, but the nation's No. 1 industry—agriculture—also is facing a manpower shortage, perhaps the worst in its history. It has farm leaders frankly worried.

They fear that the industry is losing the cream of the younger generation to the glamor of the jet age, the nuclear age, the electronic age, the space age. They have coined a new term—"the agridynamics age"—to emphasize that agriculture has romance, adventure, and glamor, too.

"There are twice as many new career opportunities in agriculture each year as there are young people to fill them," said Hugh Dermody, assistant general manager of the agricultural division of Chas. Pfizer & Co., a pharmaceutical firm.

Dermody is helping coordinate a nationwide program among educators, farm groups, and implement manufacturers to interest American youth in the dramatic future of agriculture.

It is more than a drive to "keep 'em down on the farm" or lure city boys with strong backs out to a little fresh air and exercise amid the blooming clover.

"Agriculture today is more than a dirt farm of 60 acres, five cows and 30 pigs—with 100 chickens in the back yard," said Dermody.

"It is a big business in every way. It is larger than steel or automobiles or transportation. Of 65 million Americans who work for a living, about 26 million—or nearly 40 per cent—work in some branch of agriculture."

"The scientific farmer is the one who survives today. He has an investment of $15,000 per worker, as compared to an investment of about $6,500 for industry generally."

"It isn't simply a matter of getting more hired hands. We need to attract more young scientists into the agricultural field. We need more marketing researchers, farm journalists, machinery designers and engineers."

The last generation has seen a real revolution in American agriculture, a revolution so quiet many city people are still unaware of its achievements. New techniques have speeded the growth of both meat and of vegetable crops.

Dermody, like a number of U.S. farm leaders, feels that perhaps the major battle between the free and Communist ideologies will be decided by the world's breadbasket nations.

Daily demand for water in the United States is estimated at 200 billion gallons.

CONVALESCING FROM TB AT HOME

Antituberculosis medicines have reduced the convalescent period by months or years, and the outcome with this regimen is far superior to that with older methods. The chemical treatment has replaced bed rest and permits home care of the patient. This is desirable in many ways because sanatorium care is expensive and means separation from the family.
Authorities are unanimous, however, in recommending an initial period of hospitalization to confirm diagnosis and start treatment. The sick person should remain in the institution until his reaction to the medications is known. It may be necessary to change dosage or switch to another combination should the agents in use produce toxic effects.

Tuberculosis ought to be under control before going home, because it is contagious and other members of the family must be spared the danger of becoming infected. Home care is neither as easy nor as desirable as it sounds, as patience and cooperation are required.

The invalid cannot sneak out from time to time to visit friends or have unlimited visitors or parties. He has to live up to his side of the bargain and maintain good dietary habits and tiptop personal hygiene. The family must be intelligent enough and willing to make sacrifices needed to give adequate home care.

Uninterrupted medication is absolutely essential, lest the germs become resistant to the effect of the medication. The physician must make regular visits to keep tab on all phases of treatment. Unless these rules are followed, it is folly to try home care.

TOMORROW: Dandruff.

HORMONES AND THE MENOPAUSE

Mrs. T. writes: Is there a real danger of developing cancer due to the long continued use of estrogens for the change of life?

REPLY
Not to my knowledge. However, should cancer develop in the breast or the reproductive organs, estrogens are likely to fan the flame and make the lesion grow faster. For this reason periodic checkups are advised for women using sex hormones.

ANTIBIOTIC AND GROWTH
G. F. writes: I've heard that feeding terramycin to a 10 year old boy will make him stronger and healthier. Do you have any information on this plan?

REPLY
No, and I'm "agin" it, unless the terramycin is being used prophylactically in a child who has had rheumatic fever. Antibiotics make pigs and other animals grow fatter, presumably by altering the bacterial content of the gastrointestinal tract.

NEPHROSIS LEADS TO DROPSY

H. T. writes: Is nephrosis unusual in an adult?

REPLY
No, but it is more common in children. This kidney disorder causes extensive dropsy. It often responds to the adrenal corticosteroids.

HIP BURSTITIS

C. R. writes: I know bursitis attacks the shoulders, elbows, and feet but would like to know if it ever develops in the hips?

REPLY
Yes. Several bursae are located in the hip region and the most important are the gluteal, iliopectineal, and the ischial. The ischial bursa is likely to be irritated in horseback riders and in those pursuing a trade in which they sit crosslegged (weaver's or tailor's bottom).

DIET, NO INSULIN

G. F. writes: Can mild diabetes be kept under control thru diet, without insulin?

REPLY
Yes, many diabetics stay on an even keel by adhering to their diet. The new antidiabetic tablets (Orinase) and chlorpropamide (Diabinese) are made to order for the mild diabetic who cannot get along on diet alone.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

Ap Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Defense of the value of the dollar is put right alongside military defense as musts in national policy by President Eisenhower.

The dollar has been under attack in the American marketplace.

Its value has been even gossiped about in other lands where sturdy fiscal advances have strengthened their own currencies strikingly.

This has made them look better in comparison with the dollar than they did a year or so ago and has enabled some of them to withdraw gold from the U. S. hoard at a record rate to strengthen their own reserves.

The President isn't suggesting that the dollar is now in danger of falling below par in foreign exchange.

But any runaway inflation here could weaken the dollar. That's why so many as well as the President are worried about a new inflationary surge getting out of hand.

He is putting the defense of the dollar up to Congress, to business, to the unions—and to the consumer.

He wants Congress to stop spending so much that the U. S. Treasury must continue deficit financing.

He wants unions to refrain from excessive wage costs that push prices higher and discourage industry, from making more jobs.

He wants business to "wage" a ceaseless war against costs and hold-down prices.

He wants consumers to shop carefully, both as to price and quality.

These goals would defend the value of the dollar, at home—that is, halt the rising cost of living.

If prices are held down, U. S. business and farmers will have a better competitive position in world markets.

Warren Art Group Travels To Exhibit

Despite inclement weather on January 17, 19 members of the Warren Art Group chartered a bus to attend the Bicentennial International Exhibition at the Carnegie Art Museum in Pittsburgh. During the trip down, clippings, referring to the paintings and taken from recent papers and magazines, were circulated among the group, making them more eager than ever to see the originals.

Upon arriving, the group dined in the cafeteria and was pleased to meet Mr. Washburn and his family. Mr. Washburn, Carnegie Institute's director of fine arts, took a six-months tour of Europe to ferret out art for this Show; a more unusual task this year, since the center of the art world is no longer in the Montmartre and many artists are now living in suburban sections of the European cities.

Members availed themselves of the benefits of lectures, delivered by Mr. Washburn in explanation of the paintings and why he made the purchase. "Never before has anyone been allowed to take photographs of the pictures, but special permission was granted. Esther Boyd, member of the Art Group who brought back many slides which will be shown at a later meeting of the membership.

During the return trip, the pictures were discussed at great length. The jaunt was very successful and members owe much to Helen O'Connor and Mary Whitten for making the necessary arrangements.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN F. LOWMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Nicholson, 204 McPherson street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marjorie Anne, to John F. Lowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lowman, of Brookville.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 2:00 p. m. December 27 in Grace Methodist church, the Rev. Ralph S. Findley officiating. Wedding music was provided by Richard Pratt, organist, and Gordon Odmark, who sang "Through the Years", "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown of white imported rose mangle lace over bridal tulle and carried white camellias encircled with holly and showered with white streamers.

The fitted basque bodice of her gown was fashioned with scalloped sabbina neckline, embroidered with sequins and seed pearls, and long sleeves which formed points over the hands. A band of pleated taffeta marked an empire waistline and the same material formed a back pouff-bow and panel for the bouffant lace skirt. Her veil fell fingertip length from a headband accented with seed pearls and sequins.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Delbert Sedon wore Christmas-red velvet, with a scoop neckline, brief sleeves, and full skirt. Her flowers were red camellias, encircled with holly and tiny Christmas ornaments.

Completing the bridal party, William Harding was best man; Tom Lockett and Richard Hetrick were ushers.

The reception for 75 guests followed in the North Warren Community House, where aides were Lee Mills, Johnston; Virginia Hartman and Mrs. Truman Mills, Clarion; Regina Thornton, Pleasantville; Susan Clepper and Carlene Bartsch, Warren.

The newlyweds are residing at 217 South Fourth avenue, Clarion. Mrs. Lowman, graduate of Warren High School and of Clarion State Teachers' College, is employed by Clarion Joint Schools. Mr. Lowman, alumnus of Brookville High, is a CSTC student.

Mirrored in Our Times

On a single page of an area newspaper, we noted two headlines plus details—one had to do with a teen-ager convicted of armed robbery and sentenced. According to his sworn testimony—"I did it for kicks, there was nothing else to do!"...the other announced 17 students named to a high school Honor Society...same time, same place...obviously, 17 boys and girls found "something to do!"

Weather conditions have brought about considerable comments having to do with "thank goodness the holidays are over!" Since January the first we have indulged in a determined deluge of snow and ice, thus being somewhat oblivious to a special date, which will soon be with us—namely February 14th. It is most interesting to learn of business statistics—and we have learned that annually, the demand for "heart shaped" boxed candy and timely greeting cards increases. Last year, for example, come Valentine's Day, despite increased merchandising, a certain retail establishment was "sold out" well in advance of this sentimental date on our calendar. The moral of the story is—make your Valentine candy and card selection early this year—

At The Warren Drug Store — where ample supplies of delicious Whitman "heart" boxes and unique "Valentine" cards are now a feature, February 14th is the date—but don't wait! Make your selection before it's too late! Previous records prove the remarkable popularity of outstanding items.

Anyone familiar with the right-handed bowler, who was inadvertently sold a pair of left-handed bowling shoes, can appreciate the idea of buying the "best." However, to buy the "best" one must select a shopping center with the most know-how! Many folks go on for years—never knowing that an article purchased wasn't as ordered...yet, suddenly they realize what they've been missing. That's when they really begin to score!

Yes—to buy the "best"—you must choose the right shopping center! — The Style Shop features the "best in menswear." Why not start off on the right foot—or, the left, if you're so inclined, but by all means start your smart wardrobe buying at The Style Shop.

We feel very much the same as you—tired of snow and cold and ice—weariness when we hear that sudden thaw as it drips in the damdest places! We don't like those sudden leaks any better than you do—but—"chance up"—it can't last forever—or do you think our atomic explorations and advertised "trips to the moon" have affected the natural elements?

Incidentally—we're going to miss Frank Masterson, too! He was an excellent "editor of the composing room." All who know him wish him happiness as he retires from the noisy but necessary job which he held for so many years.

Blue Stocking Club was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. C. L. Thompson and Mrs. L. H. Hull at the home of the latter. Robert Milev, Community Youth Ambassador to Yugoslavia this past summer, was introduced by Mrs. Roy Blodgett, his talk and pictures proving most interesting and informative.

A brief business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. R. E. Sines. Mrs. O. C. Titt and Mrs. Neil Donovan presided at the attractively decorated tea table. Next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Norman Johnson.

GOLDEN AGERS AT STATE HOSPITAL MEET Monday's bad weather did not deter a group of Warren's Golden Age members from going to Warren State Hospital to join the hospital's group in a social meeting held in the cheery atmosphere of the student nurses' dining room and attended by 43 patients and 14 Warren members.

Accompanying President Amel Follett were Secretary Georgia Grosch, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Munson, Mrs. Anna Doisey, Miss Lydia Wuetzler, Mrs. Jennie Lawton, Mrs. V. W. Kuberger, Mrs. Sarah McClement, E. G. McCurdy, Emil Johnson, Mrs. Esper Mason and Mrs. John Bayer.

Jamestown Show Had Beginnings In Simple Task

Mrs. Madeline Osgood, of Jamestown, who is producing the Century of Fashion and Music Review for the Warren Woman's Club next month, and Edwin C. Shade, director of Jamestown Little Theatre, attended the luncheon-meeting of Drama Department at the local club Monday afternoon.

They gave an interesting description of what the show is all about and promised an entertaining presentation on Thursday evening, February 5 beginning at 8:30 o'clock in the club auditorium.

The idea for the show, which was presented in Jamestown last week and proved the hit of the season, came about last summer when the Little Theatre group had its general house-cleaning of its huge wardrobe closets.

As Mrs. Osgood and Miss Shirley Lindskog were sorting and arranging the hundreds of costumes acquired over a number of years, they were impressed with some of the intriguing ensembles of yesterday, many of them donated by Jamestown's oldest families. Here, they agreed, was the nucleus of a fascinating production based on the costumes and music of the past hundred years. Thus the show was begun.

It is an enormous production for home town talent, since there are more than 100 people in the cast. All through the summer and fall, ideas for musical numbers and skits were worked out and staged. Each decade is represented by characteristic songs and costumes of that particular era.

Tickets may be obtained from any Woman's Club member for the local presentation.

Chairman Bloom Says Republicans Will Cooperate

HARRISBURG (AP)—George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, said today that Gov. Lawrence "will find Republicans willing to work hard to adopt those (tax programs) that are worthwhile in the best interest of all Pennsylvanians."

Bloom commented in a statement on Lawrence's call in his inaugural address for united action to solve the state's tax and other economic problems.

Bloom said that Lawrence "sketched the outline of the tax and other economic problems besetting Pennsylvania with the broad strokes of a master politician."

"We expect him to be partisan—but with a spirit of honest partisanship that will reflect credit on his party," Bloom said.

Sen. James S. Berger, Senate Republican floor leader, described the address as "well considered." Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic floor leader, commented, "To my thinking it was a wonderful way to bring Pennsylvanians together to work in the interest of all the people."

Other comment: Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican Senate president pro tempore, and COP legislative leader, "I have an open mind. Whenever anybody talks about taxes they talk about a non-partisan approach."

Sen. Albert R. Pechan, assistant Senate Republican floor leader: "I am glad he did not make the same mistake that George Leader did four years ago in attacking the Republicans."

FIRST SENATE BILL HARRISBURG (AP)—The first bill introduced in the Senate Tuesday would rule out any tax sale of property unless the actual owner is notified in writing.

Career Conference Supplementary Data

Supplementary data concerning the Career Conference to be held in March at Warren High School is contained in the following article prepared by the Dragonette News Bureau:

On Monday evening, March 9, a career conference night will take place at Warren High School to include any interested members of the high school student body and the ninth grade students from Beaty Junior High School, together with their parents.

This program is being sponsored by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce and the high school guidance office in order to assist students in choosing an occupation which they would like to follow.

The program will consist of a general assembly period in the high school auditorium at 7:30 followed by two classroom sessions where representatives of business, trade, professions, and industry will discuss their fields from the vocational point of view. They will answer questions from their wide experience.

Students have already been given a list of careers from which they may choose the two of greatest interest to them. From the tabulation of these reports a choice of speakers will be made.

This list includes airlines, the armed forces, art, banking, engineering, farming, food service, forestry, journalism, legal services, medical fields, including medical technicians, office work, personal service, photography, psychology, radio and TV, religious work, retail merchandising, science, social service, teaching, trades, and undertaking.

Students attending the Career Conference Night will become better acquainted with various occupations and be encouraged to think about future vocational plans, be given information on specific vocations, including job descriptions, requirements, rewards, and how to get started in a chosen field.

The students attending will receive a practical viewpoint on employment conditions and job opportunities in business, industry, local and elsewhere, meet vocational and professional specialists who will be their future employers and obtain information about colleges, business schools, trade schools, nursing schools, etc., plus the training necessary for certain vocations and professions.

Emergency Funds for Hospitals Proposed

HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposal to provide almost 14 million dollars for state hospitals and other agencies running short of cash is under consideration in the House of Representatives.

House Democrats introduced the measure Monday and it immediately got approval from the House Appropriations Committee.

Republican leaders of the House, however, said they would need time to study the proposal along with several other deficiency bills before a final vote.

The Democrats originally scheduled the bill to reach a final vote Wednesday but went along with GOP members on the delaying action.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fifteen years ago, Sir Laurence Olivier began an ambitious long-range program of bringing the best of Shakespeare to the audiences of the world.

"I determined to bring them along gently," he remarks. "First I did 'Henry V' which was a sure-fire story for the movies. Then came 'Hamlet,' which was a little more difficult.

"Then with 'Richard III' I figured they were ready for a real story with wonderful characters."

"Henry V" won a special Academy award, "Hamlet" an Oscar for best picture of 1948 and one for Olivier as best actor. Both made money over the long haul. "Richard III" did not. Olivier places the blame on TV.

It was released in England when the box office was taking a nose-dive because of the rise of TV.

The picture failed in this country because it was released first as a TV spectacular.

"I pleaded with the backers not to do it," the producer-director-star said. "They claimed people would be stimulated by the TV showing to see it on a big screen and in color. The money was too tempting for them—$500,000. Because they had no distribution or advertising costs, that was the equivalent of two million dollars in theater returns.

"But I knew it would ruin the theater business. The show was three hours with commercials and few could sit through that. We couldn't possibly survive such a bad reaction."

Because of the box office failure of "Richard III," Olivier was unable to find backing for the fourth of his Shakespearian films, "Macbeth."

"I tried for nine months to get the money," he said wearily. "I needed the same as I spent for the other films—$1,200,000. I was turned down everywhere. I couldn't fight it any longer. I gave up."

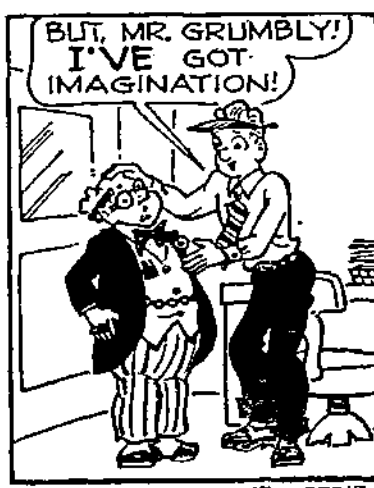

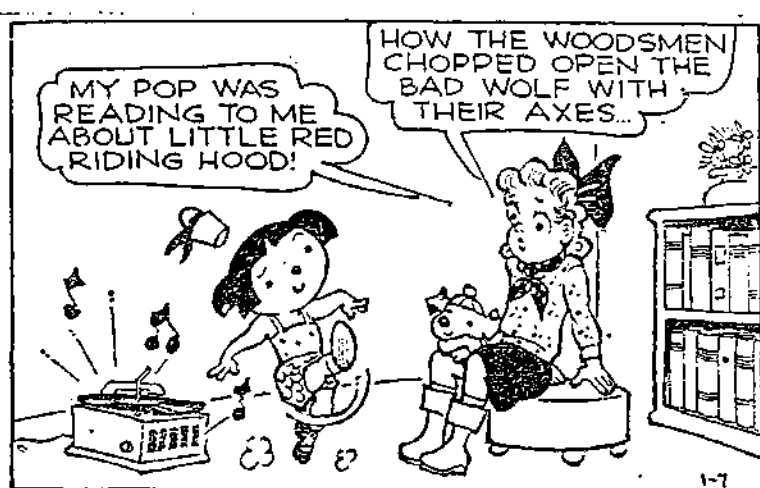

Next: Olivier's views on television, Britain's angry young men.

Delaware was the first state to ratify the U. S. Constitution, doing so on Dec. 7, 1787.

World's largest marble dome is atop St. Peter's in Rome.

Pennsylvania Outdoors...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

Border Cutting Benefits
Wildlife will fare better this winter and in time to come because of border cutting operations in Pennsylvania during the latter months of 1958. More than 90,000 linear feet of edge, 50 feet wide, has been cut on State Game Lands in Southcentral Group Land during past six months. With the coming of first snow in the area, value of cuttings along woods roads and fields on these public lands was again demonstrated. There was a tremendous amount of deer signs on some of these lands—browsing, use of the cuttings for shelter from raw winds, tracks and beds. In spring these cuttings, and seedlings and sprouts that will appear, will provide food and safe nesting cover for many game birds and animals.

Thousands of Pelts
Wild-caught animals yielded 568,691 pelts for which $585,414.03 was paid trappers who sold their catches to licensed Pennsylvania fur dealers during Game Commission's last fiscal year. Muskrat lead the field.

Operation Rabbit Capture
Oblong wooden boxes appearing on private and public properties at this time indicate Game Commission is engaged in its annual wintertime program of live trapping rabbits. In a one-month drive, early each year, many thousands of cottontails are removed from cemeteries, tree nurseries, parks and gardens where the animals are unwelcome. Captured bunnies are soon released in open hunting territory where it is hoped they will increase the shooters' sport. Game Protectors and agents appointed by Commission are only persons who may lawfully trap the rabbits.

Raccoon Symbol Popularized
Last week Governor Leader joined with Pennsylvania Forestry Association and nine other state-wide organizations (Game Commission included) in launching an educational campaign to encourage good outdoor manners. In congratulating the organizations cooperating in "Good Outdoor Manners" project, Governor Leader stressed the importance of effort and remarked on the appealing-looking raccoon which will symbolize the campaign. The coon symbol has been patented and now appears on envelopes of Pennsylvania Forestry Association. "Good Outdoor Manners" project.

Unusual Bear Actions
"About the time New Year arrived," says Game Protector Leo Milford, "Deputy Anthony Marzella and I noticed unusual activity by bears on State Game Lands No. 44 in Elk County. Though the animals had an abundance of food last fall, and there was a foot or more of snow while temperatures were zero and below for several weeks, some bears had not dened."

We followed several tracks and observed that the bears were feeding on entrails from deer taken by hunters last season. Strangely, one bear had left its original den under some rocks and wandered about, investigating every rock formation, windfall and other likely looking den site. Apparently this one was the fussy type."

Bucks Weathered Season
"The 1958 antlered deer harvest proved to be better in Huntingdon County than that of 1957," says Game Protector Richard Furry. "Many bucks remain, according to reports I have received since Christmas. On Dec. 30, four deer fed near my house. All of them sported antlers." Furry ruefully added, "I don't see a live, legal buck during all of the 1958 season."

March of Dimes Mother Receives The 1959 Award

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—"What at first seems disaster can be a blessing in disguise," says the new March of Dimes Mother of the Year.

This is the philosophy of gay, pretty Virginia Connors, of Cranford, N.J., 33-year-old mother of three, who runs her own household and holds down a teaching job for the Westfield, N.J., public schools, all from a wheelchair.

Mrs. Connors received the 1959 award at a luncheon today in recognition of her courage and her "independence in regaining maximum self-sufficiency" after a bout with crippling polio and long months in an iron lung.

She is the wife of John B. Connors, sales representative for a Kearny, N.J., paint company. She has two sons, John, 10, and Billy, 8, and a 4-year-old daughter, Mary. The girl was just a baby when Mrs. Connors was stricken with polio and complete paralysis in September 1955, just as she was preparing to return to her teaching job. She was hospitalized for almost a year, in an iron lung much of the time, and her family carried on.

"I never dreamed that John could manage the things he did during that time," says Mrs. Connors. "Of course the whole family rallied 'round—his and mine—and many friends came to the rescue. But the big burden was on him, and for that year he held down his own job, did mine at home,

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—S. J. Perelman detests clichés. But if he will pardon two, his "Malice in Wonderland" on Omnibus (NBC-TV) was a dandy and a dilly.

In Monday morning papers we called it the best satire on TV in many months. It didn't really require three days' reflection to call it the best satire ever seen on TV.

A hilarious hour of television, based on three Perelman stories, concerned a New York psychoanalyst named Randy Kalbfus who went to the wonderland known as Hollywood and completely mixed up his id and his ego. He was grandly played by Keenan Wynn.

Randy's downfall was largely caused by a statuesquely beautiful movie extra named Audrey Meridew delightfully portrayed by Julie Newmar. She made Randy's slide completely understandable—and prompted one of the most wonderful second act curtain lines ever heard on television.

As Randy tottered after the undulating Audrey, he raised his eyes to heaven and said: "Forgive me, Sigmund, for I know not what I do."

The entire cast was superb. Under the fine direction of James Lee it seemed unlikely that these splendidly grotesque characters really were actors.

But the man at the heart of all this merry matter was Perelman. Like every fine satirist, he is a stern moralist. He sees vanity, took care of the children and helped me to fight my way back to life and activity. I could never have done it without his help and love."

egotism, sycophantism and allied disorders of the soul as mortal sins. But instead of inveighing against these human frailties, he laughs at them.

"Malice in Wonderland" was not simply a satire of life in Hollywood. Rather, it satirized human attitudes.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Weather observers kept a wary eye on small streams today in the wake of rainfall which has melted much snow in the past 24 hours. The rain was continuing in many sections of Western Pennsylvania.

Pittsburgh's rivers definitely will rise but forecasters said today they are unable to tell how much.

Many small streams in Western Pennsylvania are running high and there have been a few instances of high water.

There is ice on the Allegheny River from No. 4 lock at Natrona to Olean, N. Y. and the weather bureau reported ice gorges at Franklin and Parker's Landing. So far the gorges are holding steady.

Opinions Conflict Regarding Need For "Call Girls"

By DICK VALERIANI
NEW YORK (AP)—Do call girls play an important role in helping big corporations swing business deals?

No, say businessmen. Yes — to a degree — says the city's chief magistrate. A Senate committee should investigate, says the AFL-CIO. We'll investigate, says the city police department.

The new twist in the world's oldest profession got a thorough airing Monday night on the CBS radio program, "The Business of Sex," narrated by Edward R. Murrow.

Unidentified speakers from the business world and the demimonde told of company policies that include keeping prostitutes on public relations payrolls or paying them monthly fees for dealings with customers.

As spokesmen from the top ranks of big business generally denied the sex-for-sales practice, Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy ordered an investigation. Mayor Robert F. Wagner's office said: "We will not tolerate such scandal and vice in the city."

Kennedy, acknowledging the difficulty of detecting call girl setups, appealed for any information that might aid the probe. He promised to protect informants but threatened to prosecute any businessmen found employing prostitutes.

A promise not to disclose names had been made to participants on the Monday program by CBS officials, who refused Tuesday to identify speakers to police.

Deputy Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy said the network employees "fully cooperated to the limit they could" and that he respected their right to refuse.

"No one is going to jail here," he said.

This was an apparent reference to Marie Torre, New York Herald Tribune television columnist who recently served a 10-day jail sentence for contempt of court for refusing to divulge a news source in a court case.

Gov. Lawrence

The Republican-controlled Senate confirmed all of Lawrence's other nominations unanimously Tuesday but held up the McCartney approval on grounds he was unqualified for the $20,000-a-year post.

"Some Republican senators take the position that Mr. McCartney is unqualified for the job of state police commissioner," said Chairman Robert D. Fleming (R-Allegheny) of the Senate Executive Nominations Committee.

Every gubernatorial nomination to a Cabinet post must receive a two-thirds majority vote of the Senate which is controlled now by the GOP.

"They feel that despite the fact that Mr. McCartney was once a state police sergeant, he never commanded men," Fleming said.

McCartney stood aside as the balance of Lawrence's Cabinet took their oaths of office in the House chamber Tuesday.

McCartney defended his qualifications to newsmen in reminding that he not only "commanded men with the state police but had a security job with a coal company."

Some hope still was held for the McCartney approval in the opinion of Sen. William Z. Scott (R-Carbondale) who said:

"The delay in his confirmation was purely a temporary holdup until the membership (GOP senators) have had an opportunity to sit down and look into the complaints."

Scott, representing Carbon County where McCartney was born, gave his personal support to the 50-year-old former police sergeant.

McCartney left the state police in 1950 after serving 19 years with the force. Until last week he was chief investigator for the State Justice Department.

Lt. Col. A. F. Dahlstrom, deputy state police commissioner, became acting head of the 2,000-member force when the McCartney rubarb developed and Col. Earl J. Henry's resignation became effective Tuesday noon.

holiday for all workers from 6 a.m. until midnight. Many Cubans were expected from the provinces.

The firebrand orator of the revolution, Castro himself, did not let hoarseness deter him from plans to address the massed Cubans. He has been in bed with grippe.

Castro invited some 350 reporters of the Americas for the rally and trials and also asked several U.S. congressmen. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-N.Y.) arrived Tuesday and Rep. Charles P. Porter (D-Ore.) said in Washington he would come. Several other members of Congress declined.

About 200 foreign newsmen were expected. Castro has been particularly resentful of criticisms of the executions by U.S. congressmen. He has accused the United States of furnishing bombs and guns to Batista during much of the revolution and has attacked the lack of U.S. challenges to Batista's repression.

The leader of the revolt has contended that police and the military under Batista were responsible for 20,000 deaths. The aim of the executions, he and other leaders have stressed, is justice for these—not vengeance.

ALL SALES FINALNO EXCHANGES OR REFUNDS*Something You Should Know On Social Security

Many persons who are eligible for social security benefits for 1958 may lose some benefits unless they file application with the nearest social security office on or before January 31, 1959. This does not apply to persons who have already applied for social security benefits.

Howard H. Gift, district manager of the Jamestown, N. Y., district office pointed out today that there is some misunderstanding concerning how much a person may earn and still receive benefits. The test of measure to determine whether a person is eligible for benefits based on the earnings can be best explained if thought of in two separate parts.

First, a person whose earnings are $1200 or less during the year is entitled to checks for all months of the year provided he meets all other requirements. However, if the person earns more than $1200 he loses one month's benefit for each $80 or part of $80 he exceeds the $1200. Therefore, under this part of the test, if a person works in all months of the year and earns more than $2080 there are no benefits payable, if he earns between $1200 and $2080, some benefits may be payable.

The second part of the test provides that a person will not lose a benefit for any months in 1958 in which he did not earn more than $80 in wages or in which he did not render substantial services to his business if he is self-employed.

Therefore, under this part of the test, a person who earns more than $2080 may still be eligible for benefits for some months of the year. In every application, both parts of the test are applied and the method which provides for the most benefits is used.

Any person who wants more information on how the law applies to his particular case should contact the nearest social security office. This includes any self-employed person who wants to know whether the services he renders are considered substantial under the law. The contact should be made before February 1959, if the person believes he may be eligible for benefits beginning with January 1958.

Bradford Hands Dragons Second Defeat of Season

Outshot, outthrusted and outfought, the Warren High Dragons suffered their second loss of the season last night at Bradford 58-46. The Owls paced by the amazing shooting of Birmingham and Peckham with 25 and 20 point totals led throughout the entire game and were never in danger although the Dragons fought gamely to stave off obvious defeat.

Warren, despite the offensive thrusts put on by Joe Massa with 15 and Nick Creola's 12, were colder than an Arctic breeze from the field cashing in on only 18 of 64 attempts. Try as they might, the Dragons missed numerous shots many of the easy variety. It was one of those nights when they "couldn't buy a basket." However, credit must be given to an aroused Owl team which applied pressure on the crippled Blue and White by hurrying up the Dragon shots. Warren continued to show a decided weakness at the penalty stripe converting only 10 of 22 tries. Bradford hit on 22 goals from the floor and 14 of 23 from the foul line. Ironically, the Owls enjoyed one of their best nights as they hit on all kinds of shots. Birmingham and Peckham were driving the base line, tipping errant shots and fast breaking the local five.

Perkins Favored To Win Tonight's Bout With Godih

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eddie Perkins of Chicago is a hairline favorite to outpoint Lahouari Godih of Algeria tonight in a 10-round lightweight bout that concludes a fanciful soiree at Capitol Arena.

The Perkins-Godih brawl is next on the program after—hold your hats, men—a fashion show with pretty girls.

This mixture of fishcoffs and fashions was contrived by promoter Goldie Hearn with a triple aim: to titillate the fight fan, let 'em know what they're wearing in California these winter days, and benefit the March of Dimes.

TV fight fans will miss the girls but can watch the pugilists over the usual Wednesday night network — ABC, 10 p.m. EST. Perkins cut up Baby Vasquez, the Mexican lightweight champion, for a seventh round technical knockout in the same arena last Dec. 17. The 21-year-old Chicago scrapper, a capable boxer with a better than fair right has kayoed four of his 13 victims. He's lost four decisions.

A smart jabber, Godih has won 47, lost eight and drawn two. He has knocked out 12. He claims the lightweight championship of all France.

Mays Salary For 1959 Estimated To Be $80,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Star center fielder Willie Mays, who heard both cheers and boos in his first season in San Francisco with the Giants, draws an estimated $80,000 as his 1959 salary.

President Horace Stoneham announced Tuesday night that the fleet player had agreed to terms.

The amount wasn't announced but Mays was believed to have received a $5,000 boost from his $75,000 of last season when he was runner-up both for the National League batting championship and its Most Valuable Player award.

Despite a mid-season batting slump that started some of the fans booing, Mays hit .347 for the season, his highest in six with the Giants and second only to Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn with .350. In voting for the MVP award, Willie placed second to Chicago's Ernie Banks.

Mays, 27, is No. 3 in the major league salary bracket, which is topped by Ted Williams' $125,000 with the Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial's $100,000 with the St. Louis Cardinals. Mickey Mantle received $75,000 from the New York Yankees last season and reportedly is asking $85,000 for 1959.

Future Stars In World Of Baseball

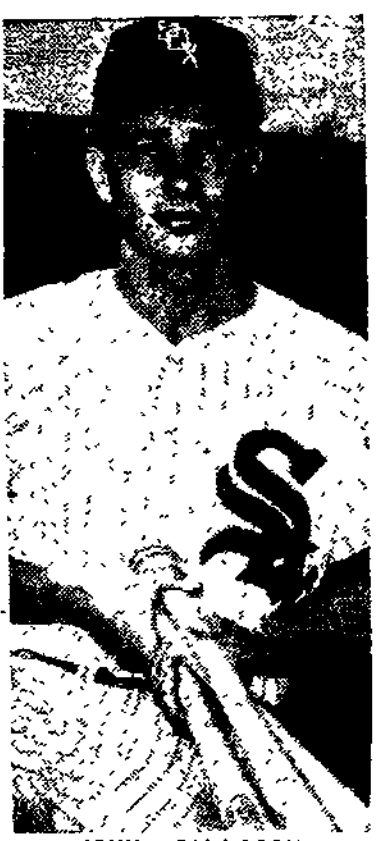

(Second of eight stories on Future Stars. This installment written by Manager Gene March of Minneapolis Millers, Little World Series winners.)

By GENE MAUCH

Of all the fine prospects I saw in American Assn. last season when Minneapolis finished third and went on to win seven straight playoff games and four in a row against Montreal in Little World Series, I rate John Callison and Jerry Davis as future stars.

Both should stick in majors this year. Callison with Chicago White Sox and Davis with Detroit.

I wouldn't be surprised if Callison played left field regularly. He has batting power like Mel Ott had. He's only 20. Davis has a lot of poise for a young pitcher. He keeps the ball low which is so necessary in major league parks these days.

JOHN CALLISON

Of course I like pitchers Bill Monbouquette and Ted Bowsfield whom we sent to Red Sox last June. Bill has poise and knows how to pitch for a young boy. Ted beat Yankees three times. He learned the strike zone last spring.

Lou Clinton, a Miller outfielder, and Eddie Sadowski, a young All-Star catcher, will get a good look by Boston this spring. Clinton has all the tools any ball player could ever ask for, plus a lot of desire. He's just a boy, only 20, and is most highly regarded young player from the A.A.

Sadowski, 25, has been sought by several major clubs. He is unique as a catcher because of his speed afoot. And he has as good a throwing arm as any in the world.

Pitcher Tom Borland, a bonus player Baltimore lost when Commissioner Ford Frick made him a free agent, is nearly ready for Boston. This 25-year-old southpaw has exceptional control of his curve ball.

Don Lee, son of ex-White Sox pitcher Thornton Lee, is another fine Detroit prospect. At times he has overpowering stuff.

Lefty Vic Rahn, who goes from Wichita to Milwaukee, has good potential. So has John Blachard, a Yankee catcher, and Willy Tasby, who last September went from Louisville to Baltimore.

George (Ed) Haas, Wichita to Milwaukee, looks like he could become a great hitter because he studies hitting. He has defensive shortcomings in outfield but a lot of class at the plate.

Ron Fairly, bonus outfielder Los Angeles picked up from Southern California, could make the grade this spring.

Rookie Prospects

St. Louis Cardinals

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals apparently are going to leave it to eager beavers in their 1959 bid to claw their way out of the second division.
Rookies will constitute the greater portion of their roster when the Red Birds line up before their new manager, Solly Hemus, on opening day of spring training next month. In addition, there will be at least a half dozen fledglings on the squad getting thorough tests. Only the matter of book keeping and the 40-player limit keep their names from being on the parent club roster.

Bing Devine, the Cards' personable general manager, is fully aware of the reason for the club's failure last year — lack of sufficient pitching and power. He has brought up 16 freshman hurlers and a couple of long ball hitting outfielders in an effort to plug the weakness.

The best of the new pitchers may be Ernie Broglio, 23, Nelson Chittum, 25, and Marshall Bridges, 27. All are right-handers. Others rated a fair chance to stick are 23, and Dick Ricketts, 25, and southpaws Ray Luebke, 23 and Bill Smith, 24.

Broglio was acquired in a post-season trade with the San Francisco Giants. The husky Californian had a brilliant top minor league record in 1958. After coping eight out of nine decisions with Phoenix in the Pacific Coast League, he was switched to Toronto where he posted a 9-3 record. Chittum was brought up after manager.

"Unless something unforeseen happens, I cannot see any obstacles in the way of a title match," Cus said.

Coming from D'Amato, that is like the weather bureau predicting fair and warm for the next year. There have been suspicions all along that Johansson—if he could get out of his return bout contract with Eddie Machen, whom he knocked out in the first round last year—would be Patterson's next opponent.

But D'Amato, a suspicious one, found all sorts of obstacles. As late as last Sunday, he refused to talk to Eddie Ahlquist, a Swedish boxing promoter, who lists himself as Johansson's agent.

Rosensohn, however, persuaded D'Amato to talk to Ahlquist, at least until Johansson shows up.

"The picture brightens pretty much now that Cus and Ahlquist have talked," said Rosensohn, who promoted Patterson's last defense of his title against Roy Harris.

Sheffield Comes From Behind To Tounce Hubbers

Tired of trailing Smethport Hubbers for three quarters, Sheffield Wolverines climbed on the bandwagon and swamped the Hubbers 62-45 in an Allegheny Mountain League encounter on Sheffield court last evening.

Sheffield followed Smethport through first half, behind 8 points. End of third canto, Wolverines were still behind 37-36. Then the tables turned. Wolverines, from the heart of Allegheny mountains, turned on a scoring spray that all but covered the Hubbers, 26-8.

As Sheffield would make a basket, Smethport would drill down the hardwood, only to have the ball stolen from their possession considerable times. Spearheading stealing was Lee Hall.

Both squads were 2-3 in league standings going into the game.

Dan Petchell, usually high scorer for Sheffield, blazed his way to 15 points while Jim McNeal checked in with 13. Jim Ackler of Kane meshed 16.

Tom McCord, Smethport player, made a basket through the Sheffield net.

Next battle for Sheffield is a road trip to Ridgway in a League tilt Friday.

This is the Time For Top-Ranking Teams to Beware

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kentucky, North Carolina and Kansas State, beware!

The record shows that top-ranked college basketball teams slump when facing their first stiff tests following the mid-year examinations.

A year ago at the midyear hiatus, West Virginia had a 13-0 record and was the nation's No. 1 team. The Mountaineers won their first game following the break. But their unbeaten skien went by the boards in the next one in a 72-68 upset loss to Duke.

Kansas, No. 2 a year ago, had won 12 games and lost two. But the Jayhawks dropped a 79-75 verdict to Kansas State and were beaten twice more to finish with a season mark of 18-5.

The current top three teams are idle until next week. Kentucky and Kansas State swing back into action Monday and North Carolina on Friday. Kentucky faces Georgia Tech. Kansas State meets Iowa State and North Carolina plays Clemson.

The only major game on tonight's schedule pits unbeaten Auburn (11-0) against Georgia. Auburn is the No. 5 team.

In Thursday night's games, VMI won its first Southern Conference game in seven starts by edging Virginia Tech 81-73. Bowling Green handed Kent State its first Mid-American Conference loss 68-59 and Murray, Ky. whipped East Tennessee 73-62 in the Ohio Valley Conference.

First flag ever made of American bunting was produced at Saxtonville, Mass.

Baked Ringnecks with Olive Dressing

Ringnecks—or blackjacks, if you prefer—are one of the best of the diver ducks since more than 80 per cent of their diet consists of vegetation and less than 19 per cent animal foods such as mollusks, crustaceans, and insects. The chances, therefore, of running into a fishy one are not great. Even so, it is best to roast them on a rack and draw off the grease as it collects in the bottom of the pan. A bulb baster does the job beautifully. Discard this grease. Never baste the bird with it!

Olive dressing is delicious with ringnecks. Stuffing sufficient for two birds is made by mixing 1 1/2 cups bread crumbs and 1/2 cup cracker crumbs. Season with 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon red pepper and 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, then blend in 1/4 cup chopped green olives, 1/4 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons minced onion. Moisten with 3 tablespoons butter and 3 tablespoons water.

Since ringnecks are not large, 1 to 1 1/2 hours roasting in moderate oven (350 degrees) is enough.

Venison and Pork Loaf

Ground venison combined with ground pork makes an especially good meat loaf that is further enhanced by button mushrooms and stuffed olives.

Here's how: Mix together 1 1/2 lbs. ground venison, 1/2 lb. ground pork, 1/2 cup cracker crumbs, 1 small onion minced, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/4 cup milk, 1 beaten egg, 1 six-oz. can button mushrooms and 1 cup small stuffed olives. Place in buttered baking dish and bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees).

Wild Rice with Eggs and Mushrooms

We'll eat wild rice any day of the week in any way, shape or form, be it merely cooked, seasoned and doused with melted butter, or prepared in a more elaborate form! Here is a fine recipe.

Cover wild rice from one 12 oz. package with water and cook 40 minutes or until tender. Do not stir since this makes the rice sticky. When tender, drain off unabsorbed water, then dry the rice by shaking it in the pan over a low fire for a few minutes.

While rice is cooking, scramble 2 eggs in butter. Slice 1 six-oz. can of mushrooms and saute in butter with 1/4 clove garlic minced. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in large skillet, add cooked wild rice, then eggs and mushrooms. Mix and serve when thoroughly heated.

Two-Game Win Streak Is Held By Cincinnati

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Royals were the proud possessors of a two-game winning streak in the NBA today for the first time this season.

The last-place club in the Western Division defeated the New York Knickerbockers 114-108 in the first half of a doubleheader in St. Louis Tuesday night. In the winnow Bob Pettit scored 52 points to lead St. Louis to a 119-114 victory over the Boston Celtics.

Jack Twyman had 20 points for Cincinnati which broke open a tight game with a run of seven straight points in the final three minutes. Wayne Embry and Arlen Bockhorn provided the scoring punch down the stretch. Embry had 17 points in the second half and Bockhorn 14.

Willie Naulls had 19 points for New York, but all but one came in the first 14 minutes of the game.

Pettit's total was the fourth highest one-game figure in NBA history. It also was this season's high.

The victory enabled the Hawks to widen their Western Division lead to 12 games.

Northern Area Joint Board Discusses Safety Reports

Given considerable attention at the January meeting of Northern Area Joint School Board were recent developments concerning fire and panic control within public school buildings, and a special bulletin issued by Dr. Charles Boehm, superintendent of public instruction for Pennsylvania.

A verbal report by Supervising Principal Everett Landin summarized a special fire control meeting held in Warren and announcement of a further meeting January 19.

Another special report concerned evaluation programs within Northern Area Schools: yet another showed elementary school membership distributed among member-districts as follows: Farmington township, 21.21%; Pine Grove township, 37.66%; Sugar Grove Union, 41.12%; secondary, 21.85% from Farmington, 33.97% from Pine Grove; 44.16% from Sugar Grove.

Also presented were a summary of the National Defense Education Act and its potential impact locally; a study of expenditure and balance within the 1958-59 fiscal budget; and an outline of legislative proposals and their effect on finances.

The board accepted with regret resignation of Mrs. Helen Collins, high school English teacher, and authorized appointment of Mrs. Gail Gross, Edinboro STC graduate as successor. It was arranged for Herbert Carlson to devote one period each day to German instruction in the high school, and to have Mrs. Mary Lou Falconer serve as substitute at Lander in his place.

Miss Sally Yost, county speech therapist, was employed to teach a special college English preparatory course for prospective college freshmen through the second semester, concurrently with adult education. Mrs. David Rice, Warren, was approved as substitute teacher in Lander Grade School. One vacancy, art teacher and supervision, was reported open, with applicants to be interviewed.

Transportation problems were given attention, the evenings of February 3 and 10 set as dates set for the committee to meet with present contract-holders for route study under new contracts.

Norge Luvison presented the report of the building committee. Also heard in the routine session conducted by President Alden Abbott were minutes by Secretary Hazel Kays. Bills approved for payment amounted to $658.86 for elementary schools; $9,422.87 for secondary.

Mrs. Clifford Cable, new member from Pine Grove township, and Lynn D. Burgett, Farmington, were introduced and welcomed to the board. The supervising principal's office was directed to seek rates for additional insurance policies; a resolution recognized the contribution to education in Northern Area System of retiring president, Travers Stohberg, and vice president, Benton Bairstow.

Mr. Abbott concluded the session with announcement of the following committee appointments for the new year:

Personnel—Benton Bairstow, Alfred Akins, Mrs. Olive Mae Lindell, Floyd Marsh, Mrs. Clifford Cable; building—Chester Anderson, Lynn Burgett, William Lester, John Stewart, Travers Stohberg; transportation—Lynn Burgett, Wallace Barlow, Francis Lewis, Charles Peterson.

Health and athletics—Kenneth Frank, Floyd Marsh, Chester Anderson, Dale Skinner; ways and means—Benton Bairstow, Charles Peterson, Mrs. Aline Briggs, Mrs. Hazel Kays, William Lester and Travers Stohberg.

Mrs. Allen Gourley and Mrs. Herbert Gourley were in charge of the evening's arrangements; Mrs. Scott Stuart, Jr., presided at the business session. Plans were also discussed for the annual banquet for the firemen in February, the date to be announced. Mrs. Harold Dobson received the white elephant gift and members exchanged Christmas gifts.

Dr. D. L. Say, supply pastor at First Presbyterian church, was in charge of the worship and Communion service Sunday morning and will conduct the remaining services of January. Mrs. Norman Abbott directed the choir, Mrs. Say served as pianist.

Program About News Enjoyed by Youngsville Cubs

Youngsville Cub Scouts climaxed a month's work on a "Newsman" theme with a lively and impressive presentation of the many ways in which news is made and told for a well-attended Pack meeting Monday evening.

Den IV opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance and Cub Scout Song, "The More We Get Together". Cubmaster Peter Bunk announced the Blue and Gold dinner will be February 16 and urged all parents to attend with their Cub Scout sons.

Mrs. Frances Rhodes, a former newspaper reporter, introduced the Newsman program with a brief history of news-reporting from the hand-carved woodblocks of seventh century China and the town crier of medieval Europe, to its present-day forms via newspaper, radio and television.

Den I gave an original skit, demonstrating the importance of speed in setting out the news, "reporting" a story of Cub Scouts finding a million dollars.

Den II interpreted freedom of the press, with a mock radio program featuring a roving reporter interviewing the man in the street, from millionaire to beggar.

Den III's news theme was launching of space satellites, with humorous reference to American and Soviet rivalry in the field. The boys had built model launching equipment, and reporters dramatized the count-downs.

Den V had visited the Warren Times-Mirror and its skit reproduced typical newspaper publishing office scenes, from the editor's desk through the plant to the printing presses.

Den VI showed samples of handprinting which they had made by carving soap bars, one of several primitive printing methods they had studied and compared with modern commercial methods.

The attendance award was won by Den V; other awards were presented as follows:

Assistant denier bar—Gerry Lyons; denier bar—Willis Edmonston, Terry Caldwell; Bobcat badge, assistant denier bar—Raymond Caldwell; Bobcat and denier bar—Duane Hultberg; Bobcat—Gerry Woods; Wolf badge, gold arrow—Walter Long, Billy Coons; Wolf badge, assistant denier bar—Sammy Walters, Greg Franklin; Wolf badge, denier bar—Dick Greeley; Lion gold arrow—Gerry Lyons, Martin Yucha; Lion silver arrow—Craig Dinnny, George Yucha; Lion gold and silver—Dan Kellerman.

The meeting closed with the Cub Promise led by Den IV.

Speaker Says Lawyers Are Not Making Enough

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — This country's lawyers are not making as much money as they should, and they have only themselves to blame, a Mississippi attorney said today.

In an address prepared for the 63rd annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Assn., John C. Satterfield, of Jackson, Miss., cited statistics on the incomes of professional men in recent years to show that lawyers have not kept pace with the national average.

Satterfield is chairman of the American Bar Assn. Committee on Economics of Law Practice.

He told his fellow counselors the American lawyer's average income increased 58 per cent between 1929 and 1951. This compares with a hike of 157 per cent for physicians and 83 per cent for dentists, he said.

In addition, Satterfield said, a lawyer's overhead now runs 38.7 per cent of his gross income.

Presbytery Backs Birth Control Stand

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The State Board of Public Assistance's stand on birth control for relief recipients is being backed by the Pittsburgh Presbytery.

The Presbytery's resolution Monday stated: "It is Presbyterian responsibility to speak on issues affecting the health and welfare of families."

The Presbytery, which represents 132,000 members in 230 churches, said there is an "admitted need for maternal health therapy in many families."
